

reflection

How we see colors

light

"red!"

signals

How our eyes see colors

\

Cones

work best in bright light, sensitive to different wavelengths (=color vision).

Three types, each specializing in detecting red, green, and blue light.

Rods

work best in the dark, but can't detect colors - just the brightness level.

<https://www.istockphoto.com/vector/photo-receptors->

medical-poster-gm2167972838-588015525

